GUIDE

Zakiyah "Kia" Caldwell Burroughs

I am a Philadelphia native who began a journey as a photographer in 2010. My super quirky personality and addiction to laughter and occasional energy drink (more like everyday) helps me to bring out the best in my clients.

Since starting photography I have been blessed to be apart of a host of projects including collaborations with; Saks 5th Avenues Salon & Spa for the Philadelphia Wedding Magazine while also Photographing Fashion & Magazine Cover projects such as Mr. Nice Tie by NBA Star Chris Bosh with Armstrong & Wilson.

I am passionate about my craft, paying close attention to every detail. Throughout my journey I have been able to travel internationally while meeting some of the most amazing people.

YOUR Engagement Session

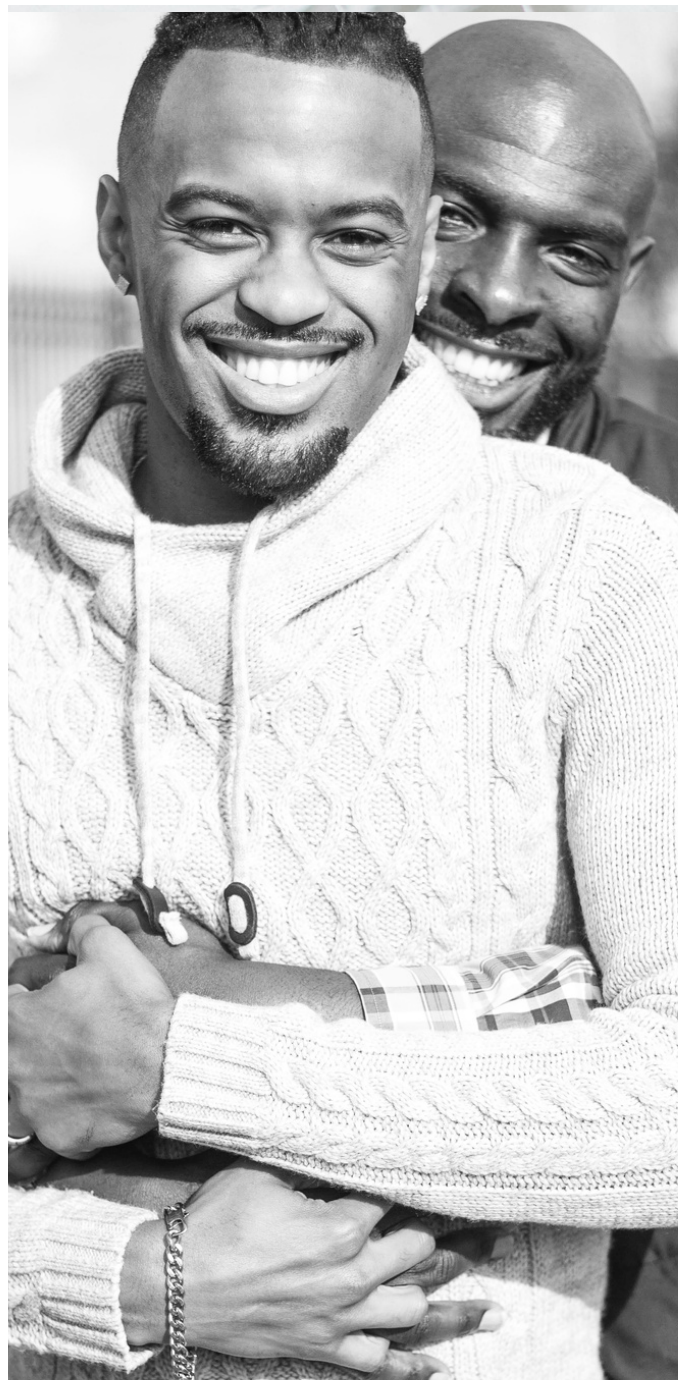

Engagement photos are a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to capture the sense of joy and excitement before marrying the one you love. But perhaps more importantly, they're an opportunity to get to know your photographer and to loosen up in front of the camera before the big day comes around!

Once you feel comfortable with your photographer during your engagement session you get to understand your photographers shooting style and personality to allow for a much smoother day of the wedding!

During the planning process, you'll likely build a wedding website, mail out save-the-dates, design a guest book, print photos for your showers and events, plus share wedding updates on social media, all of which should feature you and your partners new images.

Engagement photos should be taken within 1-2 months of getting engaged before you get carried away with wedding planning. After you get engaged, you should hire a photographer right away to take your engagement photos so you don't have to worry about them later on in the wedding journey

I offer a variety of Engagement sessions that are offered complimentary with my No. 2 & No.3 Wedding Packages.

A second Photographer will be provided if package No.2 or No.3 is chosen. Package No.1 does not include a second photographer.

While my photography studio is based out of Philadelphia, we serve clients all around the world. My destination wedding photography packages will include the cost of travel and reasonable accommodation.

Wedding Album

Albums are a timeless reminder of the joyful moments and beautiful details from one of the most wonderful days of your life! When all the dust settles your wedding album will be a gorgeous memorandum for you to treasure for years to come!!!

There are not enough words to describe how beautiful and how important a wedding album is. The digital images are amazingly great to have and you can print them at your leisure but a keepsake album gives you the heart warming tingles each time you view it.
